DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-6, 21-26, 37-39, and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lauener (US 4,773,468).

Lauener discloses a roller comprising a roll core and annular roll shell and is shrink fitted to the core. The shell has an inner lateral surface and the core has an outer lateral surface. The core have elevations and depressions as shown in figure 1 with radial extent at least 2 micron (col. 2, lines 23-59). The roughness is by milling the lateral surface.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 7-11, 27-32, 45, and 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lauener (US '468) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Hartz (US 5,823,936).

Art Unit: 1725

Lauener discloses the claimed invention above, but fails to teach the core and the roll to have different materials, a joining layer in between, and joining layer deposited by electrodeposition or plasma.

However, Hartz discloses the core and steel having different material (col. 2, lines 41-60), since chromium adds life to the core (col. 2, lines 5-11). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to provide different metals between the cores and the shell as taught by Hartz, in Lauener in order to extend the life of the core.

In addition, Hartz teaches adding a joining layer between the core and shell for the purpose of increasing resistance to tear and wear (col. 2, lines 30-32).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to provide joining layers as taught by Hartz, in Lauener in order to improve wear resistance.

Furthermore, the method of applying the joining layer would have been obvious to an ordinary skill in the art, since choosing an applying method depends on the design expediency.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 12-20, 33-36, 40-42, 44, 47-50 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
